

Announcing the Arrival of Lingerie Blouses Delightfully Interpreted

Good news! A very special collection of Blouses has just been unpacked from its boxes. They are in the soft nainsooks, batistes, French voiles, organdies and Swisses, so sheer and lovely at this time of year.

Adorable short sleeves, rounding necks, wee aprons and giddy little sashes are features of many. Some have exquisite handwork in the form of fine tucks, hemstitching and embroidery. Bits of good lace combined with handwork are found on some models. From $4.50 to $15.75.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jacobs and Miss Laura Jacobs are spending the Easter season at Newport, with Naval Commander and Mrs. Walter F. Jacobs. It is expected that as many as 30 boys will start this morning on a hike to Squaw Rocks.

Mrs. James R. Mason, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, will be a guest of the Willing Woman's club next Wednesday afternoon.

Danielson is due for a fashion parade Sunday and Monday will find Dame Fashion again in the driver's seat. Easter Monday will bring a round of dances to towns hereabouts.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Steinbohn, who have been living in Dayville are to return to Norwich to live.

Mrs. A. C. Greene will have the members of the Ladies Reading circle at her home for a meeting Monday.

Rev. G. C. S. MacKay of Putnam preached Friday evening at the last of a special series of services held here, the final one at the Baptist church.

Rosario Bassett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Bassett of Danielson, and Harry Webster, who lives in Good-year, were injured here yesterday night when they fell from a doorway on the second floor of the weaving department of the Goodyear mills to the cement sidewalk below and were rendered unconscious.

According to a statement made on Friday by Webster, the pair had been fooling and during the scuffle, while about they crashed against the door, which flew open and let them fall to the street, Bassett striking the sidewalk first and Webster falling on top of him. A gear that was near the door is also said to have rolled out the door and to have fallen on the young men.

Webster was taken to his place of residence in Grosvornordale. Bassett was removed to the home of his parents here. Bassett suffered greatly during the night and Friday, after he had again undergone an examination by a physician, he was removed to the Day Kimball hospital at Putnam. It was said that he is internally injured and that his condition was regarded as serious.

Webster is not seriously hurt and on Friday afternoon was able to be out and to walk about the village of Goodyear.

A number of members of Moriah lodge, A. F. and A. M. were at Norwich Friday, either to receive or to witness the conferring of degrees.

Warnings have been issued for the annual borough meeting, which is scheduled for the twelfth of April. This year many of only one hundred business are listed for the consideration of the voters. This will include fixing the tax rate, which is expected to be slightly higher this coming year than at present.

Tire retreading and repairing as it should be done. Bicycles and supplies. Auto store at 28 Furnace street is again open. J. C. McGuire—adv.

George A. Williams, who collects the taxes for the town of Killingly, has given the required notice that he is about to undertake the work. Mr. Williams, for the convenience of taxpayers, has arranged to be at the villages in the town on specified days during the collection period.

Evidently the spring season brings a strain on the usually peaceful relations in some homes. There is killingly there is a shower of "wife" notices at present.

A series of vaudeville acts was added to the regular picture programme at the Orpheum theatre for Friday's shows.

George Rodman, who was arrested here for stealing a watch from the store of Charles Hale and another watch from the store of McEwen and Chapin, was presented in the town court Friday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of theft, fined against him. He was given 60 days in jail and was the first man to go to that institution from Killingly in many weeks.

Whiskey played at least a contributory part to getting Rodman in trouble.

He had in his possession a small flask that had contained whiskey, which he procured in Norwich, on a physician's prescription, something that can't be done in the town of Killingly. It appears that the prescription was issued on the strength of a claim that the whiskey was to be used for the treatment of the grip, which had become epidemic in the town, and the treatment, it appears, either cured the grip or changed it into the grab, which was the name that Rodman had engaged in when he got into trouble here.

At the McEwen and Chapin store Rodman got possession of a watch on the representation that he would sell it for the firm to one of his friends. Incidentally, he stole another watch while he was trading at this store. Going forth to find other victims, he wandered into the Hale store and, through misrepresentation, induced Mr. Hale to buy one of the watches stolen at the McEwen and Chapin store. Again opportunity was good and Rodman stole a watch from Mr. Hale. Discovery of this loss led to a quick search for Rodman and was followed by his arrest.

The watches figured in the deal have been restored to their owners and now Mr. Rodman has only the one that he owned when he started in the watch business.

Mr. Hale said Friday afternoon that he was not anxious to have Rodman sent to jail, but the man pleaded guilty to the charge and the court deemed best to have Rodman locked up for a time.

All efforts to stir up enthusiasm for daylight saving has died out in Danielson. There is a hint that some of introducing the novel time-keeping system in this section this year unless such action is forced by the railroad changing the running time of its trains by reason of a holiday surprise party in Mr. Lambert's honor.

The guests brought gifts for Mr. Lambert, who was thoroughly surprised by the visit. The evening was devoted to a variety of diversions all of which were enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

PUTNAM

Editor Harold S. Corbin, of a New Britain trade publication, is spending the Easter season at his home in this city.

Putnam carpenters are asking for one dollar an hour, a scale that some of the contractors are not inclined to grant.

Good Friday was an unusually dreary day. Business was suspended in Putnam after the noon hour and the rain drove about everyone off the street.

There is every promise of a prosperous season for the Putnam Country club, which has applications for membership on file from 15 persons. Trout, caught at the opening of the season, were served in a number of Putnam homes for Good Friday dinners.

Leonard H. Healey, secretary of the state board of agriculture, has stated that definite dates have not been set yet for the fifty odd country fairs to be conducted in Connecticut during the late summer and fall.

Monday will bring the reopening of Putnam's schools for the last lap of the school year.

L. C. McGuire, who has been engaged in business in this city for a number of years, is opening another place of business in Danielson. Mr. McGuire also will continue in business here.

There is such a scarcity of potatoes in towns in this section, even in the strictly agricultural towns, that there is worry about getting a sufficient quantity of seed potatoes for this season's crop. Shipments from Maine and other parts of the country are to be depended upon to relieve the shortage.

Beautifully decorated altars and festival music will mark the observance of Easter Sunday at St. Mary's church, where many hundreds gathered for the Good Friday services. This (Saturday) morning the impressive services of Easter Saturday will attract a very large congregation.

Miss Eleanor Livingston of Wesley college and William H. Livingston, who is attending a college in New York, are spending the Easter season with their parents, Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Livingston of Thompson.

A conference of the Sunday school teachers and workers of Putnam is to be held in the Congregational church here April 14. Addresses at this conference will be made by speakers from Hartford.

Subscribers here were disappointed when they read Friday of the action taken by the Delaware legislature in rejecting the suffrage amendment to the constitution.

The alleged threats of dire consequences to any persons who attempt to take the place of the raised men of Hose Company No. 2, have aroused the ire of the great majority of citizens of Putnam. The sentiment seems to be summed up in the following remark of one prominent citizen: "I have no objection to the men resigning; that's their business. But no man or set of men has any right to threaten other men who would take the places now vacant. This is little better than anarchy."

The northerly side of Grove street has been plowed up from King street to near the soldiers' monument. This means that the contractors who did not have time to finish the work of laying the cement through this street before the cold weather set in last fall are back on the job and anxious to get it finished. It is expected that an arrangement will be made with the trolley road management for the laying of cement through that part of the street covered by the car lines. The trolley track is now a number of inches above the new grade of the street in some places and will have to be lowered.

Following are the newly elected officers of the Putnam Country club: President, G. Harold Gilpatrick; first vice president, John G. Johnson; second vice president, Charles F. Dean; secretary, H. J. Smith; treasurer, F. J. Daniels.

A bus service to furnish transportation between the Grosvornordales and Webster is of more than passing interest in Putnam, which enters into close competition with the Massachusetts town for the trade of the villages of the town of Thompson.

Attorney Ernest C. Morse has given the usual "warning" that he is about to begin the annual collection of personal taxes.

A number of subjects of importance will be discussed when the officers and directors of the Windham County Farmers' association meet here Monday next. Among the matters to be discussed will be that of affixing with him that has been party planned in the fall, this orchard, together with three others that have already been started in the same way in other parts of the county, will be visited by men interested in fruit, together with other good orchard business propositions in certain parts of the county.

Wednesday afternoon an orchard management demonstration was started on the farm of Herbert Steele of Thompson. Ten farmers were present, including Town Director Baker, to watch the initial part of the work, which consisted of the systematic pruning of three 40-year old trees, and three 8-year old trees. Prof. S. P. Hollister of the Connecticut Agricultural college and Mr. Patterson, one of the students, were there to help start the work. It is the intention of the county agent of the Farmers' association to make this demonstration serve a "purpose" in showing the possibilities in well cared for trees. It is the plan to prune, spray, cultivate, and to fertilize to some extent, all the trees in this demonstration. This demonstration, after it gets well under way, will be labelled with a sign along the roadside, showing the co-operating parties. In a fruit trip that has been party planned in the fall, this orchard, together with three others that have already been started in the same way in other parts of the county, will be visited by men interested in fruit, together with other good orchard business propositions in certain parts of the county.

Miss Margaret Carney, graduate of St. Vincent's hospital, Worcester, has taken up her work here as nurse for the Putnam District Nurse association. Miss Carney comes to Putnam highly recommended for her proficiency.

An Easter correspondent has every thirty one down this way all wheed up with his hint that "cheap beer" is the latest drink with a punch, up in that corner of the county. "Never hear tell on it" is the general comment down this way, but there are some Putnamites that will wager that it isn't any "later" than some of the concoctions being produced right here on the railroad line, by heck!
